   a. Membership list and communication plan

   Trevor Holmes (Guelph) described the EDO Profiler and reported that 88 members and 51 offices have registered their profiles to date. Trevor also reported on the Caucus WebCT site which will provide a virtual meeting place where documents (minutes, presentations) can be posted and discussion boards and working groups can be established, all within a password-protected environment.

   b. Professional Development
Lynn Taylor (Dalhousie) reported that she and Eileen Herteis (Mount Allison) have been in contact with STLHE Conference Planning Committee and that the motions from the June 2004 meeting were incorporated into the STLHE Conference Planning Manual. Lynn thanked Margaret Wilson (Alberta) for her excellent work on the manual, which will be a valuable resource for all institutions who wish to host the STLHE conference in the future.

Lynn also spoke about the professional development opportunities offered at the Winter meeting. The Winter meeting provides the Caucus membership with an opportunity to advance their practice and the scholarship of educational development. This year we had an explicit process of peer review; Lynn thanked the peer reviewers and the presenters for the wonderful program at this year’s meeting.

c. Support for Institutional Memberships

This past week the STLHE Steering Committee devised a strategy for securing base funding for the Society. More information on institutional memberships will be forthcoming from the STLHE Steering Committee.

5. New Business:

a. EDC Budget and Membership Fees

A proposed budget was distributed to the membership at the June 2004 meeting; this budget was contingent on the Society receiving institutional memberships. Given the circumstance that the Society has not received institutional memberships, it was decided the EDC needed to institute a membership fee to cover the costs of doing Caucus business. Angie Best (Trent) presented the following budget:

Proposed EDC Membership Fees

In the absence of base funding from STLHE, the EDC Executive is proposing that an EDC membership fee be established to support the work of the EDC Executive and the Caucus in general.

This membership fee would be calculated using a zero-based budget.

A budget of $6000 was agreed upon. This budget translates into $50/year for regular members and $25/year for students and retirees.

Proposed EDC Budget

$2,500 Two face-to-face meetings for the EDC Executive
The EDC Executive has two face-to-face meetings, corresponding with the June STLHE Conference and the February meeting. This budget item will provide each executive member with one night's accommodation plus per diem for each meeting.

$2,000 Administrative Costs
This budget item is to cover the monthly teleconference calls between the members of the EDC Executive, printing, and other related administrative costs.

$1,000 Seed funding for educational development projects
Seed funding for one strategic project per year.

$300 Communication
Maintenance costs associated with the ED Profiler database and the Caucus WebCT site.

$200 Contingency fund

$6,000 TOTAL

It was moved that—

The Educational Developers' Caucus establish a membership fee of $50/year for regular members and $25/year for students and retirees.

Moved by Russell Day (Simon Fraser).
Seconded by Jeanette McDonald (Laurier).
Discussion followed. Joy Mighty (Queen's) explained that over the past three years the members of the Task Force and the EDC Executive members have absorbed the costs. This was certainly okay while getting established, but we would not want to see this continue as practice as it may discourage people from taking on leadership roles within the Caucus. The membership fee is intended to facilitate the professional development of the Caucus. Once a membership fee is established, how will things change? The meetings will remain open to all STLHE members, but only Caucus members will have voting privileges and qualify for seed funding. We would like to maintain accessibility.

1 abstention.
