The 3M National Teaching Fellowship is co-sponsored by 3M Canada and the Society for Teaching and Learning in Higher Education (STLHE). Founded in 1986, the Fellowship honours exceptional contributions to teaching and learning at the post-secondary level.

“On behalf of STLHE, I extend our heartfelt congratulations to this year’s award-winning educators. Their dedication to the scholarship of teaching and learning not only enriches student experiences but also advances a culture of academic distinction. These scholars exemplify the highest standards of innovation, inquiry, and impact in teaching.” — Patrick Maher, STLHE Chair of the Board

“We are honoured to recognize this year’s award recipients for their outstanding contributions to the scholarship of teaching and learning. Through their thoughtful and research-informed approaches, these educators are transforming the learning experience and shaping the future of higher education. Their leadership in higher education enriches the academic experience and inspires a culture of continual learning and improvement. At 3M Canada, we are proud to celebrate their dedication and impact.” — Marie-Claude Brandys, 3M Canada Country Governance Leader

The 2025 3M National Teaching Fellowship Award recipients are not only excellent educators but also leaders, both nationally and internationally, at their institutions and within their professional communities.

Award recipients each receive a two-year membership to STLHE and are invited to a retreat with their cohort, where they can share knowledge and create synergies to further promote leadership and excellence in teaching and learning.

STLHE and 3M Canada will officially welcome these amazing educators into the Fellowship at the STLHE conference, which will be hosted in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, from June 10th - June 13, 2025.
